in the beginning

Main Street was as busy in 1957 as it is now in 2014. And although the cars, businesses, and people have changed, Tell City has maintained its pride in community, academics, and athletics. Throughout our high school career, we're faced with challenges and triumphs that help us grow into the people we want to be. But no matter what may happen, we as Marksmen will always face

how did the juniors SPEND THEIR SUMMER BREAK?

Summer

With time comes change, but one thing time hasn't changed at Tell City High School is the students' love for summer break. Summer break for most Tell City High School students is being carefree and simply having fun. Over the years, most students still enjoy the same activities as past students did decades ago, such as spending time on the beaches of the Ohio River or just hanging out with friends around the town. Even with years of progression, some Tell City traditions will never change.

Summer Vacations

During the summer of 2013, many exciting things happened. We welcomed two foreign exchange students from different continents, and some students even went to new and exciting destinations. Sophomore Jena Albor went to the Philippines to visit her family. She was able to experience many new things.

While some were on vacation, sophomore Kelly Tran from Australia and junior Benita Hastedt from Germany touched down in the United States. As we were told, the educational style in other countries are very different. And although this might sound horrible, German schools have 14 class periods. There is the first class, then a 5-minute break, second class, then a 20-minute break; the pattern continues, so you get around 5 breaks a day. Australian schools are far more stricter. You would either have a 4-period day or a 6-period day, with classes changing around for 1-2 weeks. Students have about 2 minutes to get to class, which would be unfortunate for classes that are very spread apart.

Band

From Teamwork to Triumph

Football

The Tell City Marching Marksmen did very well this year; however, it came to an unfortunate end at Regionals. They just missed Semi-State by a little over a handful of points. Their score had gone up a significant amount from their very first performance at Evansville Central to their performance at Regionals. They had a long run with several issues. From playing a standstill performance to everything coming to a strange halt, the Marching Marksmen gave it all they had.

Our 2013 Tell City football team finished their season with a record of 6-4. Our boys played their hearts out when they hit the field. They managed to beat Heritage Hills for the first time since August 28, 1992, with a winning score of 16-13. The Marksmen lost their Sectional game in a hard-fought battle to Southridge with a score of 28-27. All in all, our community, staff, and students of TCJSHS are proud of the effort the boys put forth this year.

The band kicks off the football game with the Star Spangled Banner. Following that, they played the Tell City Fight Song.

Freshmen Sarah Hess and Taya Franchville close in on their competition as they get closer to the finish line.

The boys cross country team did very well this season. Their record was 147-73. The team had a very supportive group of parents and students, which helped the team stay motivated. They won the PAC championship and the Sectional championship. They also placed second at Regionals and made it all the way to Semi-State. Coach Chris Hollinden said that he would have loved to perform at Semi-State a little stronger, but overall he felt the team ran a great year.

The girls cross country team also had a good season. Their record was 37-121. As a team, they finished third at PAC and sixth at Sectionals. Even though it rained during PAC, it was their best race. They didn't make it as a team to Regionals, but seven runners qualified individually. Also, two people made it to Semi-State at Brown County: Hailey Carman and Jalynn Pruitt.

Girls Golf

From Clubs to Rackets

Boys Tennis

The girls golf team did very well this year, especially for most of the team being first-year players. They really didn't have many fans at their matches, but their parents always supported them. As a team, they did not make it past Sectionals. However, junior Addison Peter did advance to Regionals as an individual and she made it to All-Conference. First-year coach Ms. Amber Thomas was proud of how much the team improved over the season. Addie got MVP, and senior Jenny Hess got Best Putter. They received these awards at their team banquet.

The boys tennis team had a good season. The team's record was 9-5. At PAC, they were tied in third place. From there, they made it into Sectional finals with an unfortunate loss to Castle, 4-1. Despite that loss, sophomore Jake Swihart made it into individual Sectionals. Coach Nick Weyer said that he "enjoyed working with the students to improve their skills."

GAME ON

Before games, the varsity team would sing and dance to the song 'My Heart Will Go On.' This really pumped us up. Also, on the court, we would chant the cheer 'Do It.' This really excited us and gave us hope!"

Volleyball

Senior Grant Bolin kicks the ball down the field. Bolin said about soccer, "Amazing things can be achieved through hard work."

With a small team this season made up mostly of freshman and a shortage of substitutes throughout the game, the Marksman soccer team fought a tough season with 1 win and 12 losses. "The players this year realized they were to set goals not only to work together as a team but as a family and to always fight until the very end no matter what the score is," said Coach Fisher. The goals were accomplished this season because of the team's hard work and a positive attitude.

Despite losing seven seniors last season, the Lady Marksmen volleyball team had an unbelievably successful year. They finished the regular season with a 14-13 record and the PAC with a 4-4 record. The team ended with a .519 winning percentage. Off the court, many team members mentioned numerous memories such as scavenger hunts around town that created a bonding experience and became a favorite activity.

Madison Schuetter '16

Starting a New Year

Online Classes

Many new things happened this year, like the arrival of the Chromebooks (or Bingbooks if you were in Mr. Weyer's class). Students and teachers learned quickly how to use this new technology in the classroom.

Also this year we got rid of the individual study halls and gave everyone one! Now instead of having to read books in homeroom, you could catch up on all of that soon-to-be-due homework!

Our school offers an internet-based program that allows students to make up missing credits or try for a better grade in a class. Enrollment in an online class was based on seniority due to a limited number of spots. Students who took online classes had nine weeks to complete the class they were taking. Junior Mariah Kessinger said, "Online classes are hard to keep up with but they always get finished." Brooke Peter, another junior, admitted that she would "wait until the very last minute to finish them."

Mr. Hollinden is ready to start a new year just like everyone else. He lost a bet with Mr. Bryan Taylor and had to wear this '80s ensemble.

Fall Sports Extravaganza

From Parades to Chromebooks

Chromebooks

More than 600 Google Chromebooks were handed out at our school and served as a great asset to the classroom. If the wireless Internet service was working well, it certainly seemed to make class simpler. Many students were surprised over how much schoolwork could be done on the Chromebooks. Teachers were also impressed with the new technology. "We've been using Google Docs, which is very helpful for English classes. The students can share and collaborate with each other," said English teacher Mrs. Aubrey. This is just the beginning of a new way of how a classroom will work in the future.

All of the Tell City Marksmen sports and clubs were involved in the Fall Sports Extravaganza, which took place on Wednesday, September 18. They began the float line up down by Carriage Inn and ended at the football field. After the Fall Sports Extravaganza, everyone took to the stands and showed Marksmen spirit and support for our sports teams.

Our Marksman cheerleaders before the start of the parade. They handed out candy to all of the kids standing around throughout the parade course.

FOOTBALL HOMECOMING

From Prominence to Perfection

ACADEMIC KICK-OFF

On October 4, 2013 Tell City held its annual Football Homecoming ceremony at Legion Field. The previous week all high school students voted for who they wanted to represent their class. Once all the votes were tallied, the freshman representatives were Shane Lasher and Emma Kohnert. Representing the sophomores were Javier Mendez and Allison Conder. The juniors were represented by Elliott Brown and Natalie Peter. The four queen representatives consisted of Logan Flannagan, Mary Jane Shockley, Maribeth Ammon, and Layla Craig. The four king representatives were Shane Roerk, Clint Waninger, Brook Smith, and Marcus Hinton. After all of the excitement and anticipation, the crowning of the queen went to Logan Flannagan and king went to Clint Waninger.

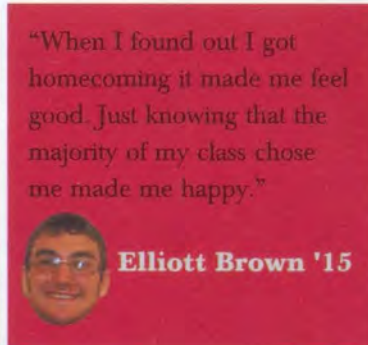

This year the Renaissance leadership class kicked off the 2013-2014 school year with an Animal Planet themed kick-off. The kick-off was then named Academic Planet to recognize students for their academic achievements. Students and staff were honored with awards and prizes for their academic excellence for the start of the new school year.

Off-campus lunch

From Training to Feasting

Internships

The class of 2014 is a lot more involved in internships. Everyone is a lot more interested in what they want to do when they get out of high school. Our school is doing everything they can to get everyone to succeed. There are all sorts of places you can go to intern, such as Waupaca, William Tell Elementary, Tell City Junior-Senior High School, many hair salons, etc. You can literally do anything. It's also a good way to see if you are really interested in doing that job or if it is not at all what you expected.

Usually, off-campus lunch has been reserved for seniors only. In the junior class we have quite a bit of students taking AP classes. If a junior taking AP classes makes at least a C, that person gets to go out during lunch with the seniors!

Internships and off-campus lunch are two positives to our school. As long as you work hard, good things come your way.

Senior Gabrielle Joines approves of her off-campus lunch trip to McDonald's. Fast food restaurants were often a favorite among those who could leave campus for lunch.

Fall

From Home To Classroom

Class Projects

Several changes have happened this fall within our classrooms. In last period there was an increased number of girls enrolling in Advanced P.E. Seventh period was dedicated to all the girls that wanted to join, and several boys were also put in the class.

Many juniors took AP Chemistry and AP U.S. History. A new thing that happened this year was opening up campus at lunchtime to juniors enrolled in an AP class. There were ten juniors and eight seniors this year taking AP Chemistry. "This is more than triple the number of students that I had last year, and more than I have ever had in AP Chemistry, in the last ten years," said Mr. Kreilein, the AP Chemistry teacher. AP Chemistry was a dual credit class this year through Ivy Tech.

Mrs. Atkins, the ninth grade English teacher, was a new teacher last year and has also brought some new activities and creative ideas like Socratic Seminars.

Seniors Massey Drake and Cat Diaz work on the sophomore hallway and personal projects for Drawing and Painting class.

What have you liked or disliked about your fall classes

"I like that we get to pick our own topics for most of the speeches and we are giving the speech in front of people we know and not a room of strangers. It makes the class more enjoyable!"

"Yeah, because Nick Ubelhor was my lab partner!"

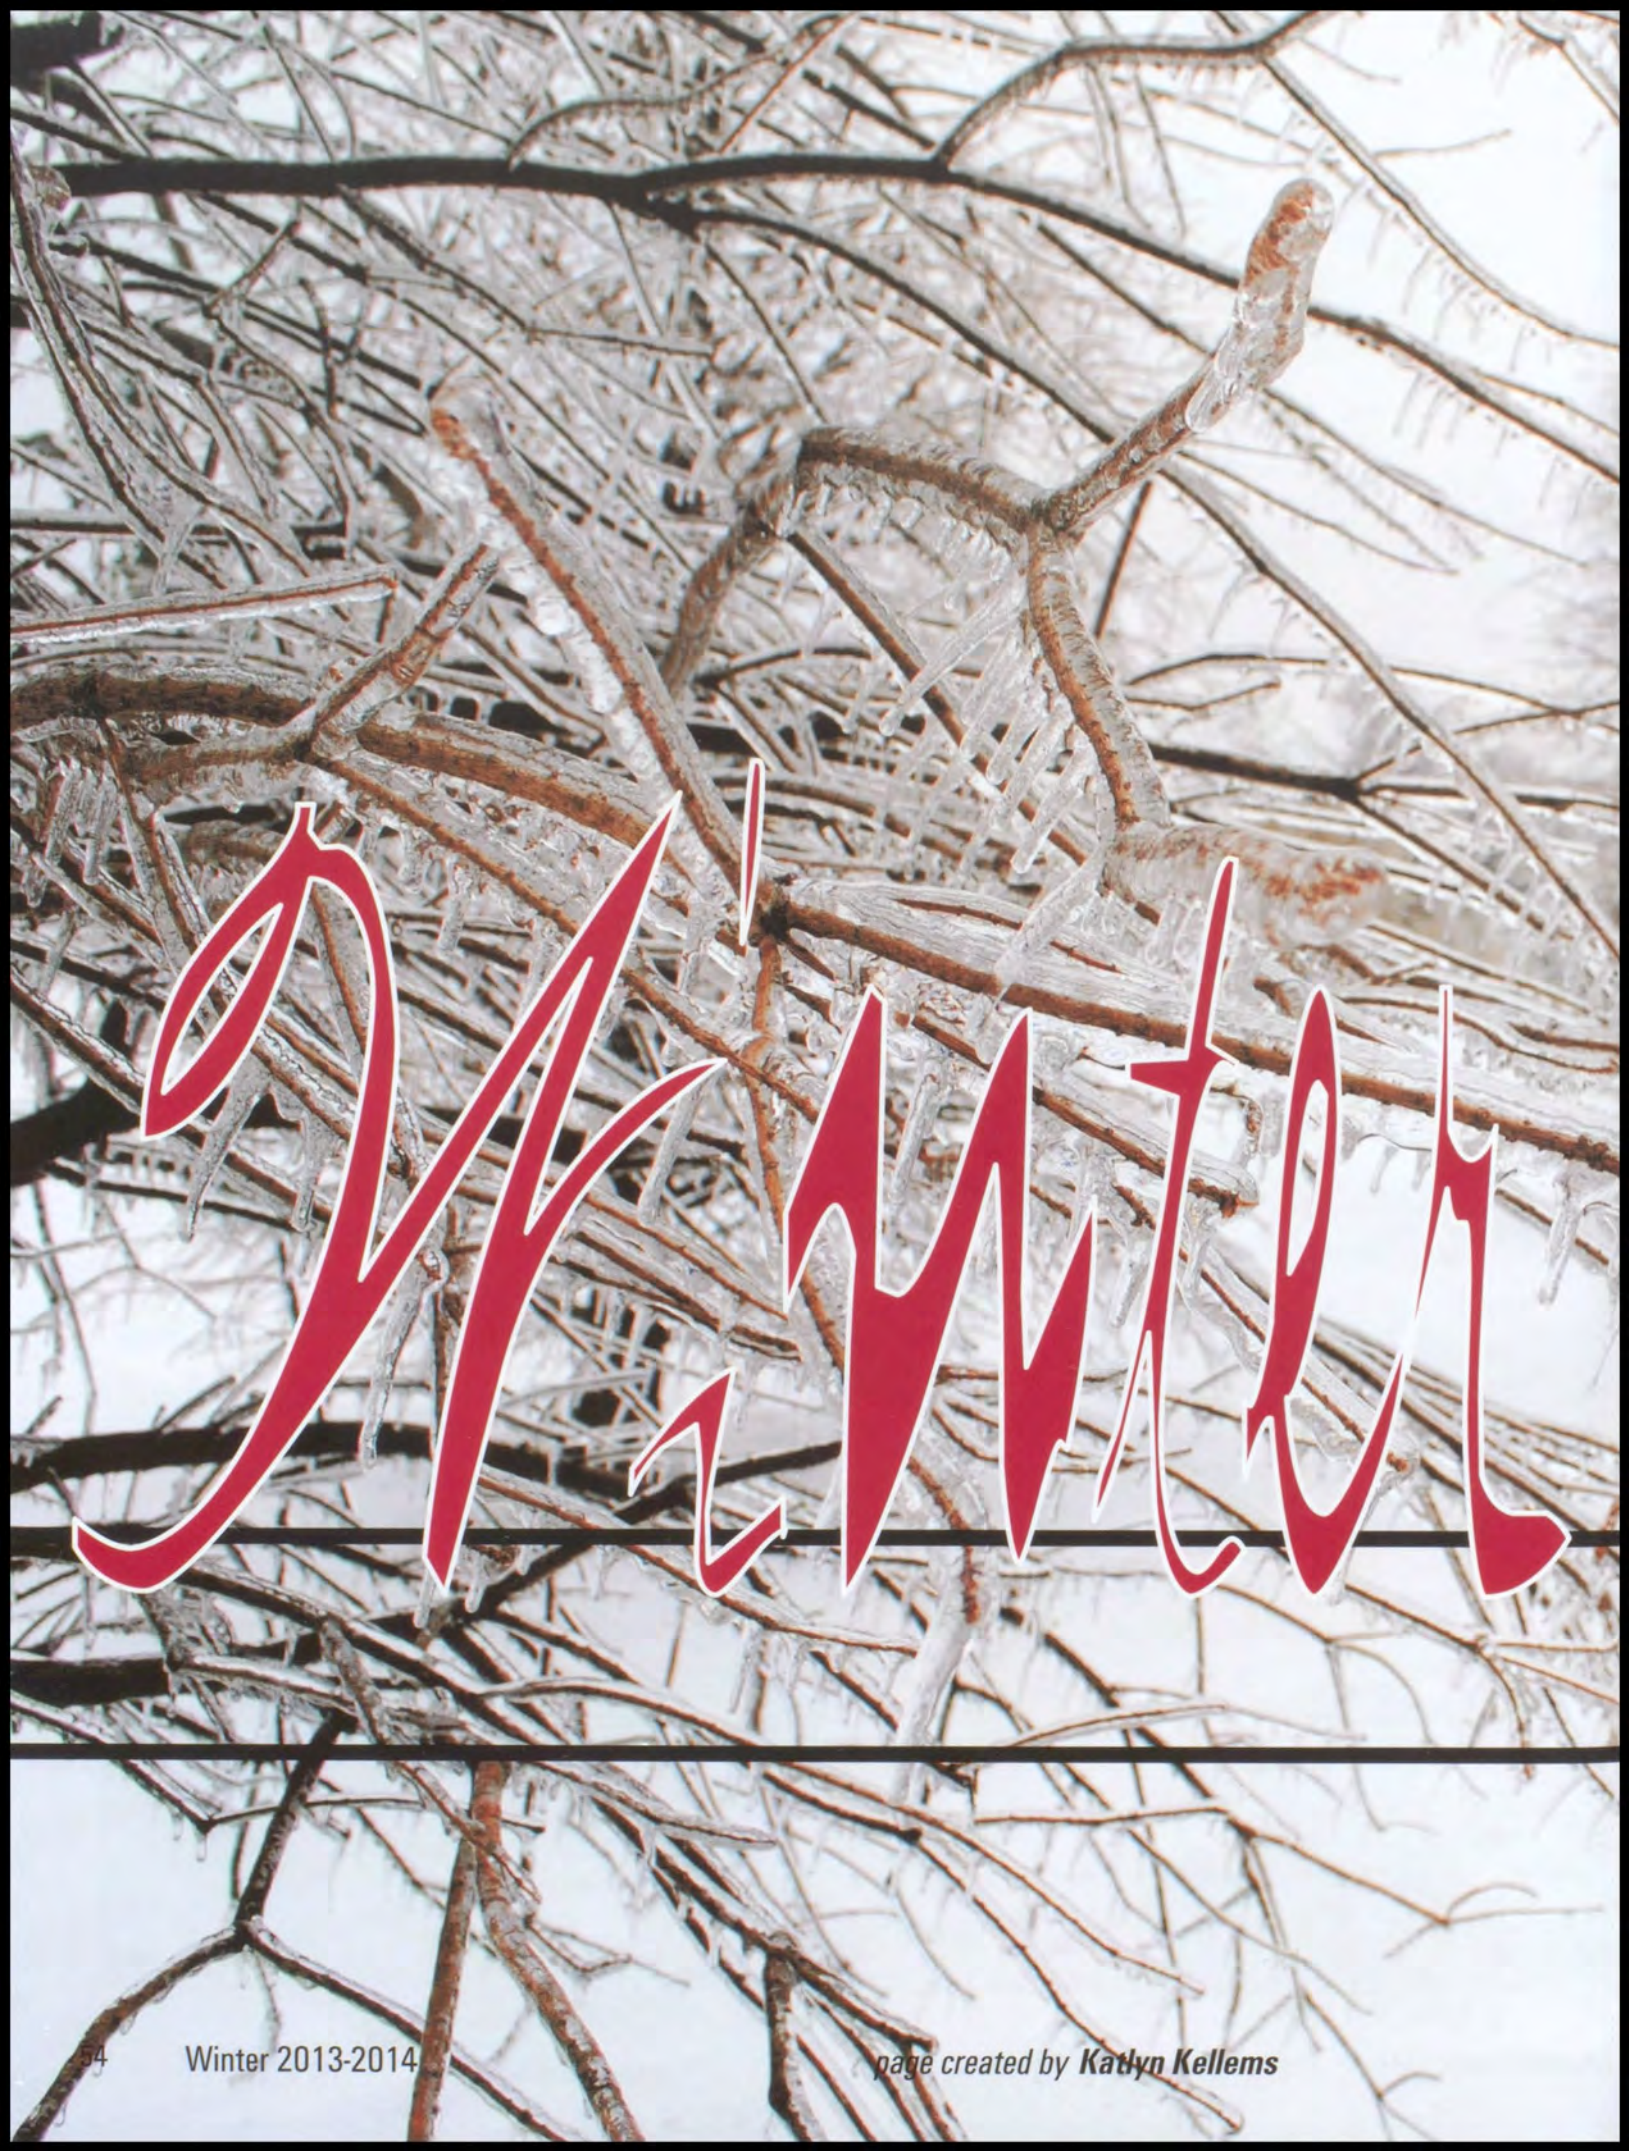

Zach Flamion '14

"I enjoyed both Chemistry I and AP Chemistry equally. In Chemistry I though, you could be more relaxed and the expectations were not as high. AP Chemistry, being a college level class, demands more out of you and has higher expectations."

Winter

he winter of 2013-2014 was a cold one for Tell City High School. Due to all the snow and cold weather, a lot of school days were missed, and most students saw that as a good thing. This year's winter weather was the coldest weather Tell City has had in over 20 years-brr...that's cold!

Boys & Girls Swimming

Junior Kassi Peter races in the 100-yard freestyle that she placed 4th in at PAC. Peter's personal record time was a 1:03.99 in this race.

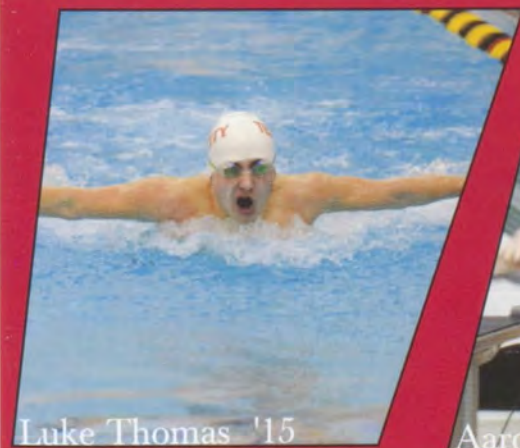

Freshman Stephen Houle competes in the 500-yard freestyle race. Houle's best time in this event was 5:50.

Returning coach Mike Page coached his 32nd swim season this year. He said that this season, "All swimmers improved their times and achieved their personal bests." Coach Page also said, "The whole team consisted of quality swimmers," but if he could change one thing it would be to have more swimmers on the team. Another accomplishment the swim team made this year was both the boys and girls teams placed third at PAC. Luke Thomas and Aaron Vincent achieved all-time top ten Tell City High School times. The event Thomas achieved top ten in was the butterfly swim at Jasper Sectionals Championships with a time of 1:04:56. Vincent placed in the 100 backstroke. The team overall placed fifth at the Jasper Sectionals Championships.

Senior Trent Harding swims the 200-yard individual medley. Harding's personal best for this event was a 2:22:16.

"I will remember my ultimate overtime match in the PAC finals. It was the best match of the whole tournament. The only bad part was that I lost the match 0-1 and got second."

ELSA HERNANDEZ '16
ARCHERY

"My goal was to have fun and be good at archery. I accomplished it."

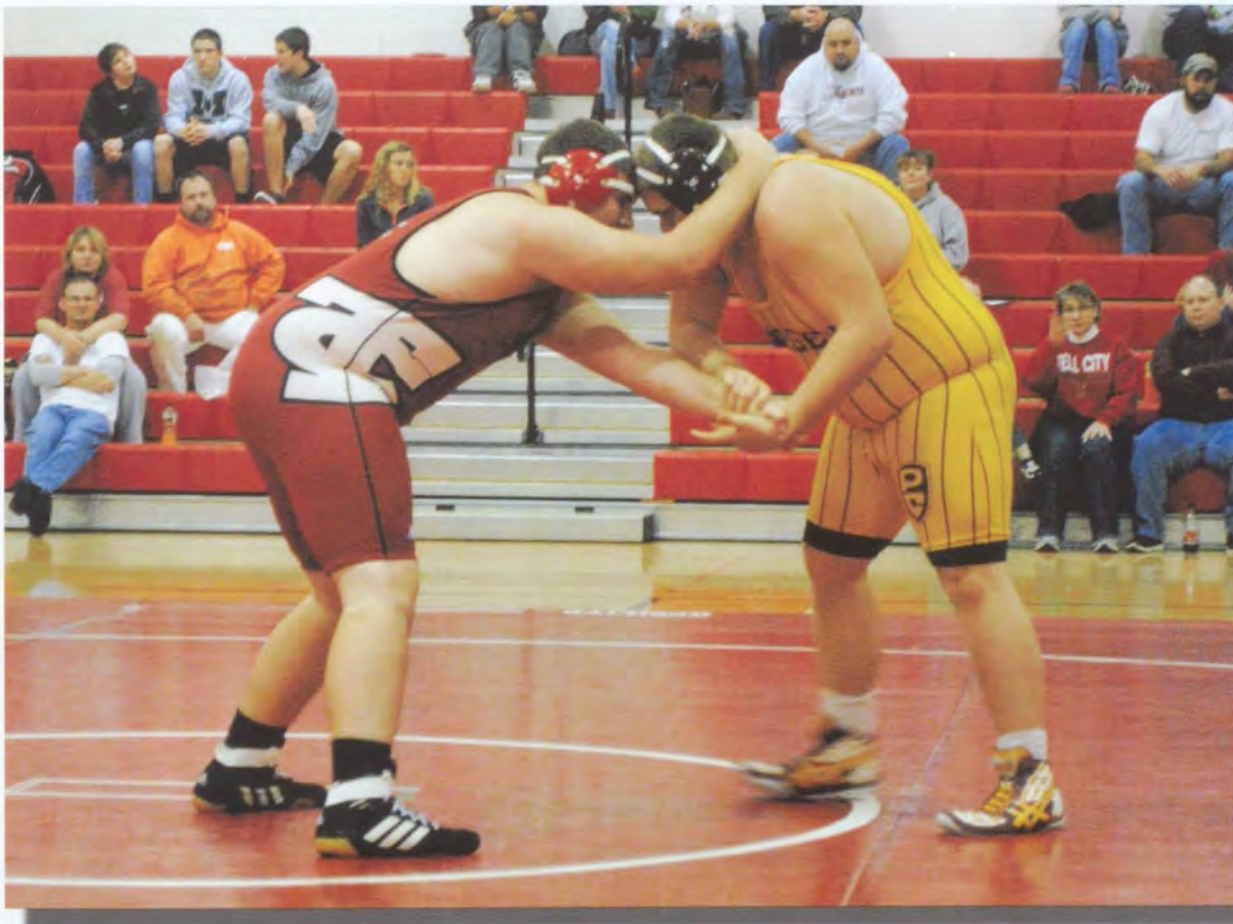

C.J. Rowe works his way around a Pike Central wrestler. This is Rowe's first year wrestling and he placed fifth in PAC for the season. "I did all right this wrestling season, but it wasn't my best since I haven't wrestled since the 8th grade," Rowe said.

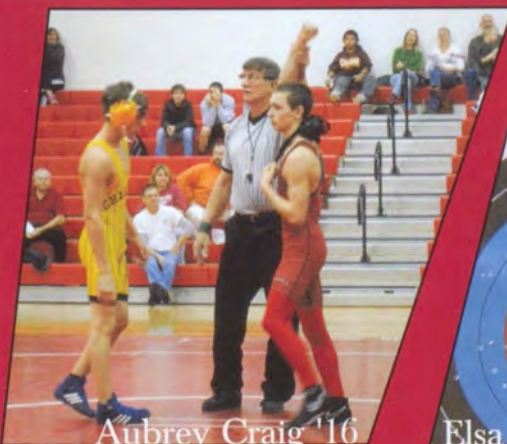

The archery team hosted a tournament in December. As a team they shot 3,189 and qualified for the NASP state tournament. Nathan Freeman, senior, led the team, followed by senior Grant Bolin and sophomore Nick Arnold. For the girls, the top shooters were sophomores Jena Albor and Elsa Hernandez and Sarah Nguyen, freshman, for this tournament. This was the biggest archery tournament Tell City has hosted!

Tell City placed sixth in the nine-team PAC wrestling tourney in January. "We were only 11 points away from fourth place, which would have been a big accomplishment for our team, considering where we finished last year. We had a couple kids finish above where they were seeded...but overall it was a good day of wrestling," said coach Neal Stahly.

Senior Cody Osborne starts his match in the heavyweight weight class. He placed third in PAC this season and fifth in Sectionals. He has wrestled all four years in high school.

The girls basketball team did very well this year. "Better than anyone thought!" said senior Logan Flannagan. The girls had a lot of encouragement this season from the fans. They won eight games and made it to the sectional championship game, but in that game the Lady Marksmen had an unfortunate loss to North Posey.

The boys basketball team did great this year. "We've improved dramatically compared to last year," said senior Jimmy Phillips. The team won five games and made it to sectionals. The Marksmen also played against North Posey but did not win. Coach Owen was still proud of how hard they played this season.

Winter Class Projects

Mr. Weyer's first period Algebra II class enjoys hot chocolate. The Renaissance class handed out hot chocolate to all the high school students right before winter break.

Other Thoughts About Classes?

"Lectures get boring. It's cool to do fun things."
Alex Morrow '14

"I think the best part about receiving hot chocolate is that it gets us started in the mornings. A lot of people like hot chocolate in the winter to warm up their bellies or just because it's refreshing."
Celina Snyder '16

"A class is definitely more interesting when we do projects. Some can be boring, some are just fine."
Nick Arnold '16

"Class projects grab your attention and give you a fun and interactive way to learn."
Garrett Jarboe '15

MARKSMEN

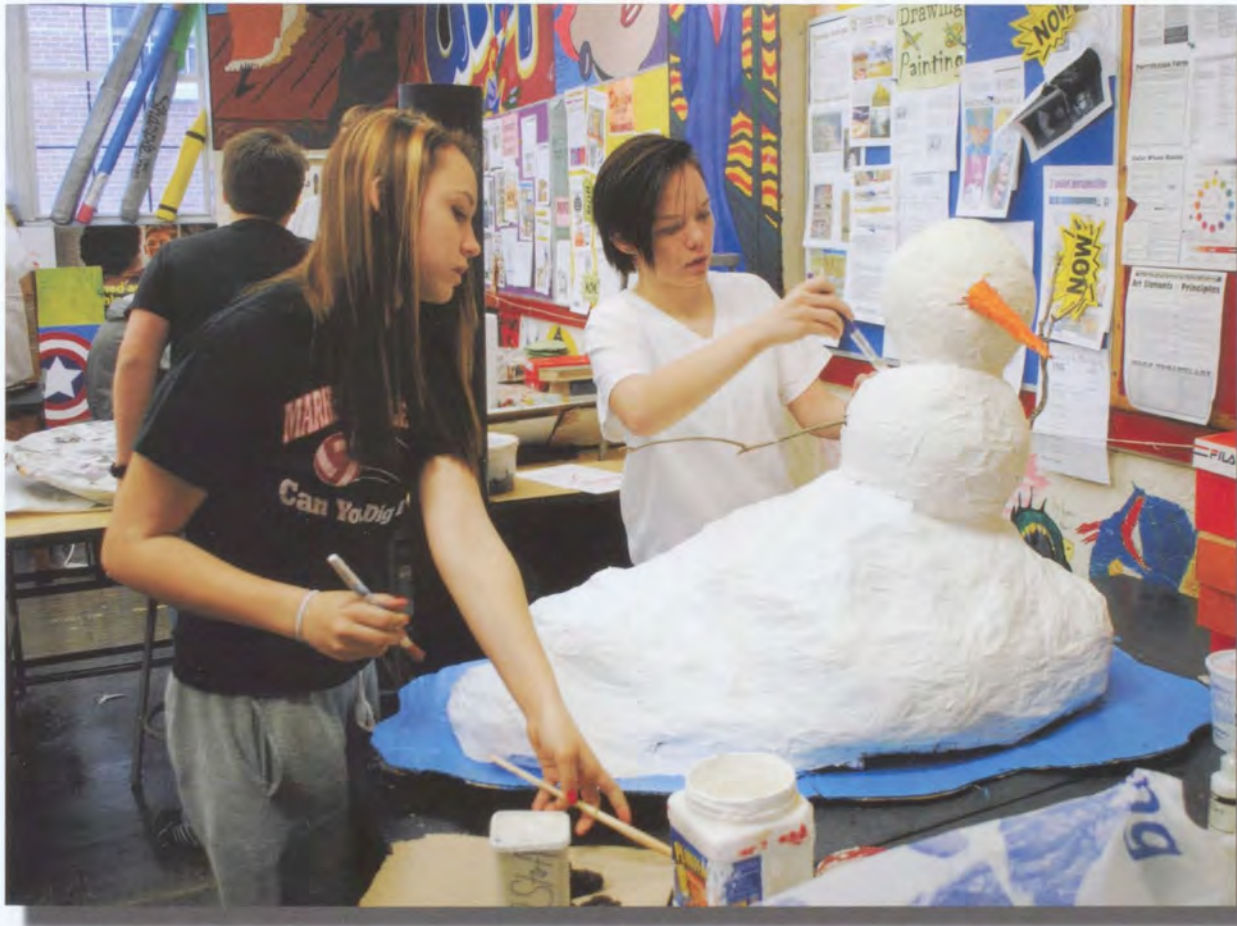

Mrs. Robinson's JAG class poses for a goofy picture. They competed in a competition this winter and did exceptionally well.

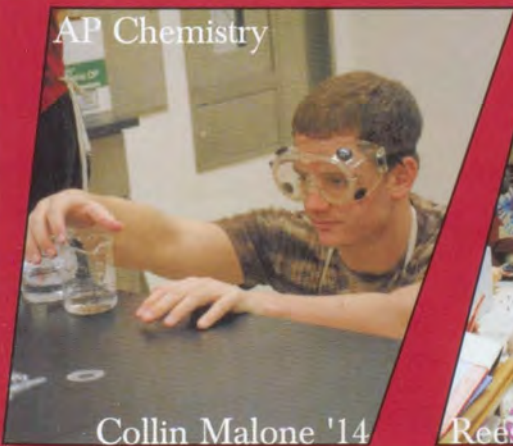

This winter was a wild one. We missed several days of school and had several two-hour delays. Because of this, many teachers fell behind schedule. Mr. Weyer had to wait for the weather to cooperate to take his class outside for sidewalk chalk graphing. Cami Galloway, junior, was asked if she thought classes were boring without class projects and she said, "No, I think that class is different for everyone. You make it what it is, boring or fun."

Mrs. Goodrich's Design Fundamentals class started working on papier maché projects that were put in the art show in the spring. "The paste, oh my God, it smelled horrible," said Rebecca Phillips, freshman.

Freshmen Kaydi Backer and Taya Franchville work on their papier maché project called Melting Snowman. "Taya and I came up with our idea after she saw something online about a melting snowman," said Kaydi.

From ventriloquists to the "Evolution of Dance," the 2013 Tell City Junior-Senior High School Talent Show supplied the audience with many laughs and stellar moves. The talent show was held on Friday, December 13th in the high school auditorium. It was hosted by Kyle Boyer-Hanks and was sponsored by the JAG Corporation and Drama Department. Alex Lawalin placed 3rd by singing and playing on the guitar "Safe and Sound" by Taylor Swift. Sebastian Sturgeon took the 2nd place trophy by performing "The Evolution of Dance." Abby Lawalin stole the coveted 1st place by singing Leonard Cohen's "Hallelujah." Overall, the show was a huge success!

Freshman Rebecca Phillips shows off her talent by performing "Rolling in the Deep" by Adele. Rebecca said she chose that song because it was one of her favorites. When choosing the song, she said she didn't give much thought about whether or not the audience would enjoy it. All that mattered was that she had a good time!

How Nervous Were You to Perform?

How Much Did You Practice?

Senior Gabrielle Joines said her group practiced every day for a week before the show!

Freshman Emily Davis said she didn't practice! "I was born ready."

Senior Gage Otto said he practiced a total of 20-30 minutes for the show!

Senior Trent Harding performs "Taking the Moon" by Bruno Mars. Trent, who had participated in the talent show for two years, said the best part about performing is being able to be in front of all his friends and family.

The TCJSHS band and chorus prepare to begin a song during the Christmas Concert. One song performed was "The Holiday Sing Along," which included the high school and junior high band and chorus forming together as one.

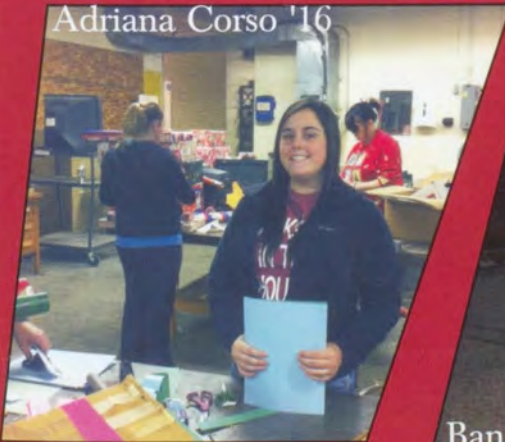

After being postponed due to weather several times, Tell City finally held its annual Christmas Parade. The event took place on Saturday, December 7, 2013. Many different floats drove by while throwing candy at the people. A chili cook-off and Christmas in the Park was held at City Hall from 2:00 to 4:00 p.m.

On Sunday December 15, 2013, TCJSHS held its yearly Christmas Concert. The junior high and high school band played one song while the chorus sang along. Songs ranged from "Angels O'er the Field Were Singing," sung by the chorus, to "The Nutcracker Suite," played by the high school band. Breanne Embry, sophomore, said, "'Morning Star' was definitely my favorite song and we've come so far since the beginning of the season!"

TCHS held its annual winter dance on January 4, 2014, and was held in the auxiliary gym in the school. This year's theme was Ice Castles/Masquerade. Over 300 students and attendees dressed up and danced the night away. A castle-like entrance granted entry into the gym, and pillars created a canopy over the dance floor.

Senior Gage Otto said, "Drops of Jupiter' is the best slow dance song ever!" The DJ this year played various genres of music, ranging from hip hop to country. After being asked how long it took for her shoes to come off, freshman Lexi McFarling said, "I took them off as soon as I went through the door!"

The dance floor held over 300 attendees who danced the night away. Senior Sarah Mann mentioned, "My favorite part of the night was when there was the girls vs. boys dance off."

Sophomore Mary Steen smiles for the camera as freshman Emma Kohnert watches her. Mary said, "Emma and I didn't even plan on both wearing red that night! It just happened!"

Christmas Traditions & New Years Resolutions

Some of our Tell City Marksmen—juniors Cassie Bryant, Megan Teague, Kassidie Hayes, Kelsey Gowers, Natalie Peter, senior Derrian Zabel, and junior Benita Hastedt—pose for a picture during their time down at City Hall waiting for the apple to drop. They spent the last of the old year preparing to enjoy the start of the new year.

Ashton Hale '17

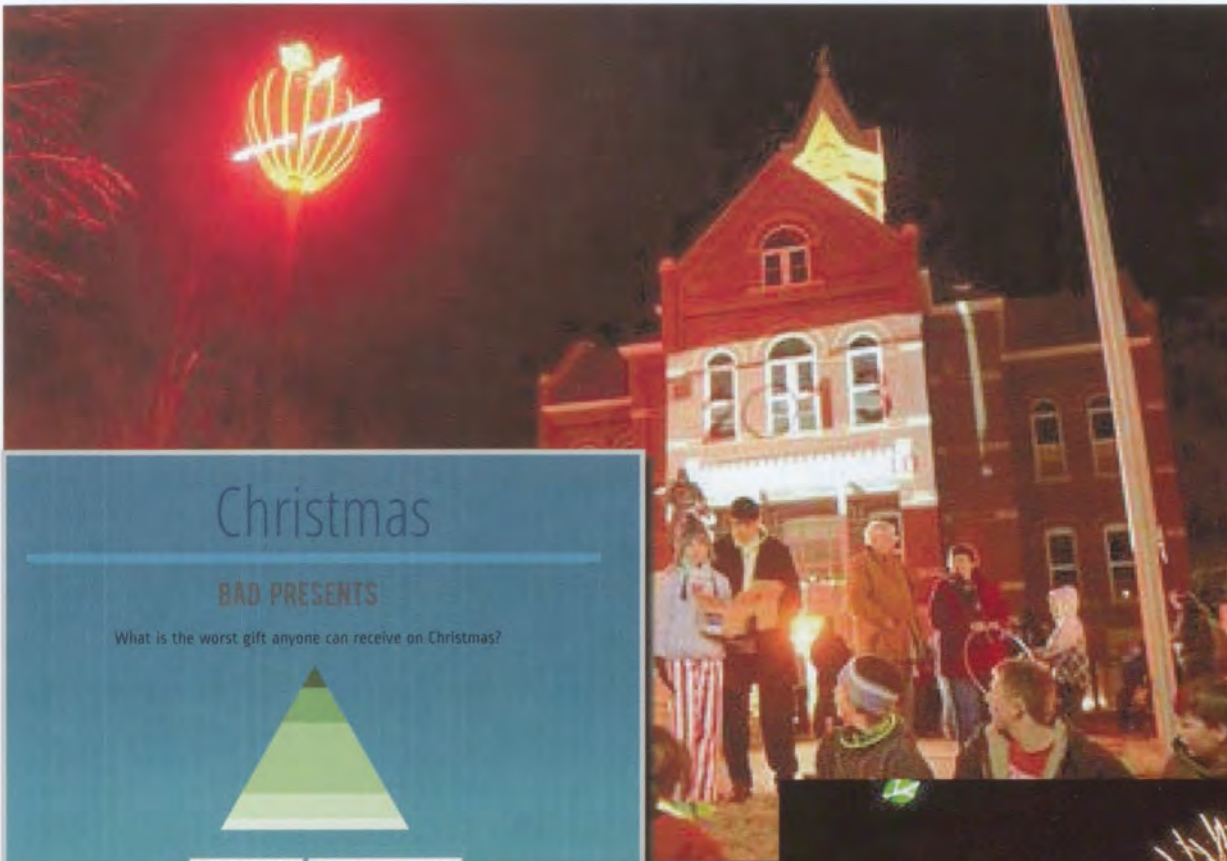

Sarah Nguyen '17

Everyone has their different Christmas traditions. Some visit family, some have big dinners, but all enjoy the holiday vacation. "We have a glass pickle my mom hides on the tree on Christmas morning that we have to find for a prize," said junior Amity Lain about her fun Christmas tradition. Following Christmas is New Year's and that is a holiday Tell City has started to celebrate at City Hall and at the high school. There was bubble wrap stomping, the apple drop, and fireworks to conclude the celebration of a new year. With a new year also come new resolutions for people with many different options, which often are to lose weight or to try something new.

The town counts down the last little bit of the year as it fades away. Everyone impatiently waited for the New Year to hit!

Everyone who was down at City Hall waiting for the apple to drop saw more than just that. They were also entertained by multiple fireworks.

Tell City's basketball homecoming court was recognized on January 21, 2014. A new tradition was started this year and took place on homecoming night. From this year forward, each elected king and queen from the previous homecoming ceremony are the ones to present the newly elected king and queen their crowns. Our 2013 winners, Logan Flannagan and Clint Waninger, were proud to congratulate Grant Sanders and Emily Olberding with annual homecoming gifts.

Being part of a team that earns the right to compete at the state level is an honor. Several students earned that right as members of academic teams. On April 22, 2014, our six teams competed in the regionals competition at Bosse High school. Of those six, the social studies, science, and interdisciplinary teams advanced to state.

The Marksman cheer team ended up with nineteen cheerleaders in all after tryouts. After losing five seniors from the previous season, there were new faces joining the team and work to be done. With the help of the new head coach, Amanda Atkins, the cheerleaders' season was full of progress.

With the junior and senior classes going head-to-head for the most spirit jugs, this year's pep sessions had become more exciting. During that twenty-minute time period, there are games, athletes and teachers speaking, crowd cheers, and everyone joining in to the school song. Pep sessions aren't only fun for the Marksmen, but they also show our pride for our school as well.

The cheerleaders get the crowd pumped up by doing leg kicks after every Marksman touchdown. After so many, the Pep Club joined in the excitement by counting each leg kick the cheerleaders did.

In what ways do you show school spirit?

24% of students take part in dress up days.

21% of students attend sporting/club events.

13% of students help with hallway decorating.

22% of students are involved in a sport.

19% of students are involved in a club.

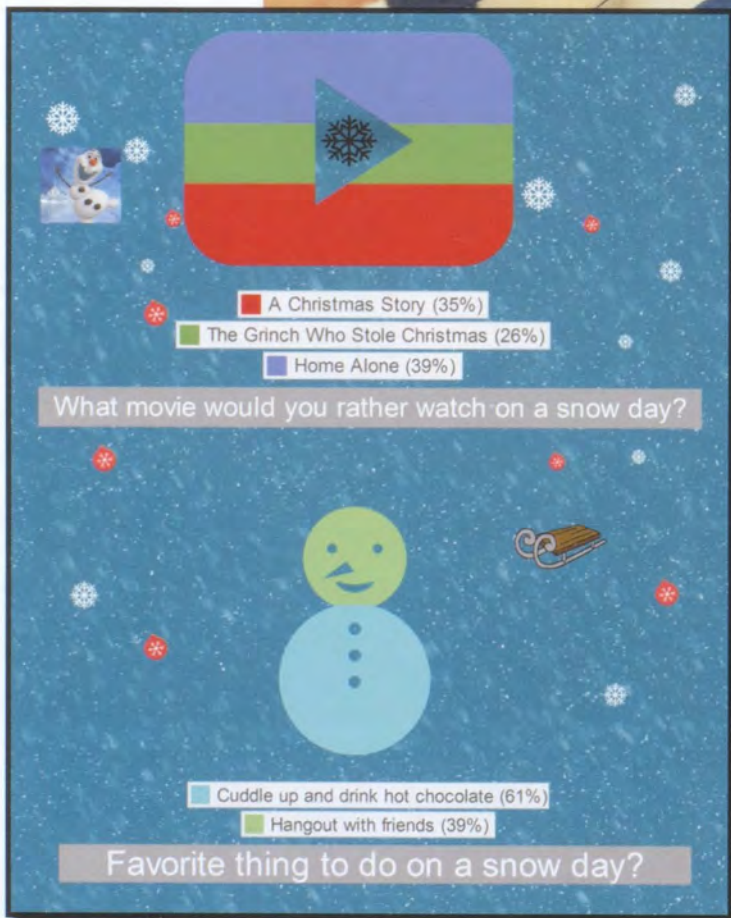

Seniors Leesa Holloway and Autumn Kuster were nominated team captains for the 2013-2014 cheer season. They are the only two in their class that have stayed involved with school cheerleading for six years.

Snow Days

Junior Sierra Kellems makes snow ice cream in the snow on a day off of school. This was one of many ways she enjoyed her snow days.

Freshman Taylor Sumner spent her snow day playing in the snow and making a snowman. She enjoyed spending her snow day with her friends.

Tell City Jr.-Sr. High School had 8 snow days this winter. This winter was the coldest winter we have had in over 20 years. To say the least, everyone tried to stay warm. There are many things that students did while we were out of school for so long. Kids went sledding, enjoyed sleeping in, and some went to work; others didn't have a choice but to sit in front of the TV all day and relax because they were snowed in.

Everyone enjoys having a few snow days a year, but when you have as many as Tell City Jr.-Sr. High School had, it's a mess. Students had to go to school on days they weren't supposed to go on, including Good Friday, Easter Monday, and Graduation Day.

Sophomores Kayla Reeves and Bailey Sandage visit Paoli Peaks during this cold winter day. "My favorite part about going to Paoli Peaks was getting to meet new people and learning how to snowboard," said Kayla.

Spring

Spring brings the ending of the school year! Students progressed towards a new year and stayed busy with spring activities and finals during this crazy season. With events like spring sports, Spring Fling, and prom, excitement was in the air at Tell City High School during spring!

Flashes of lightning, cracks of thunder, flaming businesses, nasty diseases, and a goofy messenger were all part of this year's drama production of God's Favorite. Joe Benjamin, played by Kyle Boyer-Hanks, along with his family, is tested in order to prove his devotion to God. The rest of the cast consisted of Garrett Smith, Samantha Burton, Gage Otto, Addie Peter, Luke Thomas, Sebastian Sturgeon, and Taya Franchville. Despite missing several rehearsals due to inclement weather, the cast was able to put on several stunning performances. From audience applause to standing ovations, the cast experienced a form of progression they'll never forget.

From Perry County to Paradise

Spring break is all about enjoying a week off from school, right? After school on Friday March 21st, a lot of our students prepped to travel somewhere out of town. While many students spent their week off in a different state, those that stayed in Perry County were surprised with some snow!

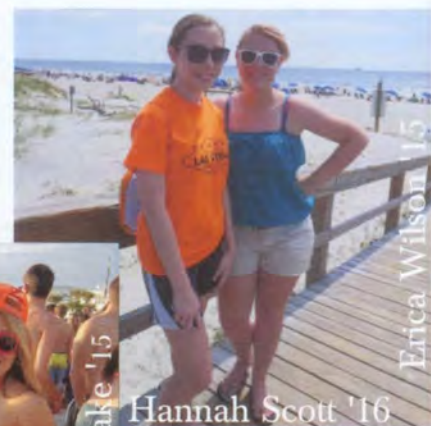

Aside from your typical spring break on the beach, or wherever you may go, a small group of seniors traveled all the way to Paris, France! Accompanied by Dan Hall and a few other adults, the group visited many well-known tourist sites. All in all, whether you spent your spring break on the beach, with family, halfway across the globe, or in your own home, it's something students look forward to year after year.

From Ties to T-shirts

On Saturday April 26, 2014, TCHS held its annual prom. This year's theme was "Dancing in the Streets." Junior class sponsor, Mrs. Amy Kehl said, "It was supposed to capture the essence of the roaring twenties and give off a Gatsby feel." The event took place at the Schergens Center from 8 p.m. to 12 a.m. and after-prom immediately followed at the high school.

Also taking place that evening was the voting of prom royalty. Prom prince and princess was awarded to a junior boy and girl. This year's prince was Luke Thomas and prom princess was Mercedes Mendez. Chris Schaefer and Kayla Morrow were named 2014 prom king and queen.

From Rock to Roll

This year's academic pep rally was themed Rock of A's. The Renaissance class worked extremely hard this year and had a lot of thought built into this theme. It was held on Friday morning, May 16th in the auditorium right before the Spring Fling. There were many awards given out, including the Student of the Year Department Awards, the Outstanding Advocate, the Marksman Shadow, Student of the Month, Raise the Lid, and many others. Also, many people were recognized for perfect attendance and honor roll. There were a couple skits this year and a few videos: Grade World, School of Rock, Best Concert Experiences, Punk Students, and Lead Singer Auditions.

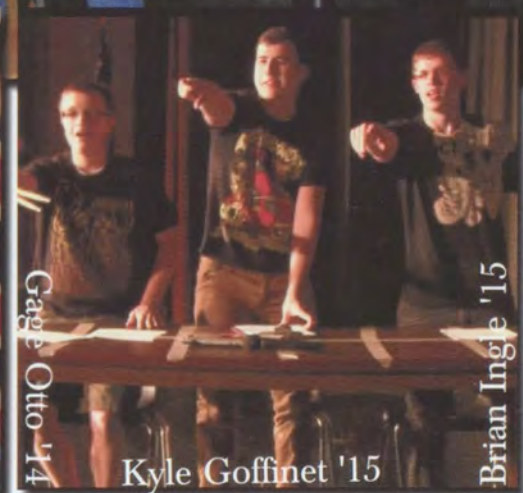

Juniors Leah Hellems, Julie Lindauer, and Brooke Peter pose as the band Kiss. They were missing one member, Gene Simmons, or as we call him, Mr. Hall.

Before coming up with this one the Renaissance class had over 10 ideas to choose from.

This is the first year the Academic Pep Rally was held in the auditorium.

It took about two weeks to make the props and set up the stage for the rally!

The Home Stretch

Many classes began to wind down as the school year came to an end. As we headed down the last eight weeks of school, teachers were trying to finish up their class criteria while also making classes fun and mixing things up.

The second blood drive for the year was canceled due to complications with the Red Cross and some of their equipment. They rescheduled for a make-up date on May 2. The students that signed up the first time were scheduled again.

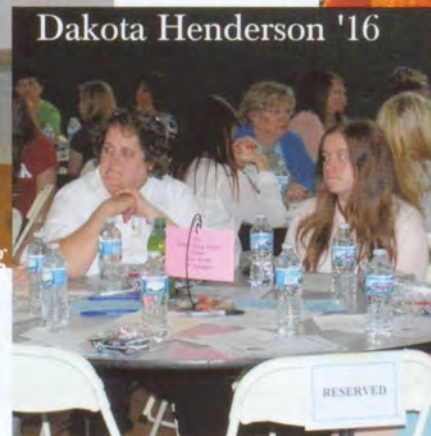

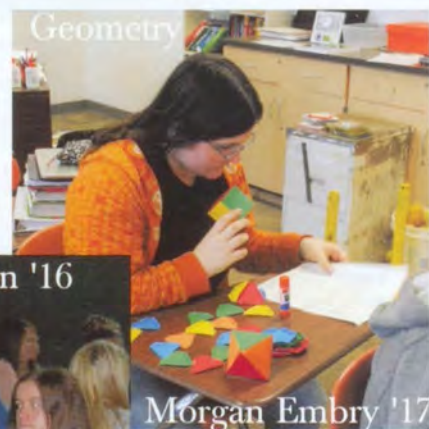

The art show also took place here in the spring. Every class with Mrs. Goodrich submitted things to the show. Votes were submitted electronically for the first time. "The online ballot process went well and there was a large increase in the number of visitors voting as," said Mrs. Goodrich.

Many design fundamental students worked on scratch boards. They all hung together in the art show along with the stripe drawings and other art work.

From Starting Blocks to Finish Lines

The boys track team met many goals this year with a good amount of the members beating records, some being their own, and having an undefeated season. After winning a sectional title, the boys went on to regionals. Caleb Sherry, Cameron Sherry, Donovan Ingle, and Travis Brinksneider set a regional record in the 4 x 800-meter relay, earning first in regionals and a spot at state. Brennan Malon won the 110-meter hurdles at regional and also qualified in the 300 hurdles. Elliott Brown was second in the 100- and 200-meter dashes and qualified for state in both.

With much determination, the girls track team managed to have a record of 30-5 at the end of the season. They placed second in PAC and third in the sectionals. Seven of the girls went on to regionals. At regionals, Logan Flannagan placed 3rd in the 300 hurdles and made it to state. Kassidie Hayes won regionals in shot put, sending her to state and keeping her undefeated record for the year.

From Skirts to Khakis

The girls tennis team did very well this year! "Always work hard and never give up," said senior Emily Olberding. Their goal this season was to win more matches this year than last year. The team consisted of fourteen girls, with only one senior. Coach Nick Weyer said he wouldn't have changed a thing about this season.

The boys golf team, even though quite small, did well with what they have to work with. Every match was close with our own Marksmen giving it their all in each and every hole. Junior Mason Waninger set goals this year which included having a winning record and to improve himself individually.

Beginning the new season, the Lady Marksmen came into a new coaching staff. Maggie Schuetter took the position of head coach, along with the help of her husband Phil and Mark Lehmkuhler. With no seniors and only few juniors, the team was very young. This being said, the team worked hard and improved with each game. Their record is now 0-9.

This year the Marksmen boys have been having a very exciting the season. The team is coached by Mr. Jason Wilkerson. Their record is 7-6 all together and 2-4 in the PAC. Senior Austin Paulin said his favorite song to pump him up before a game is "Monster" by Skillet.

"I'm always confident. There is no down time," said Rhett Baumeister when asked when he feels most confident.

Freshman Savannah Alvey prefers Powerade and dill sunflower seeds. The song that pumps her up is "Take it Outside" by Brantley Gilbert.

From Fangirls To Fanboys

This year marked the seventh annual lip sync contest. The lip sync contest is a great way for kids at school to get together and show people the talents they wish they had. This year's judges were Mr. Alan Malone, Mr. Andy Hollinden, Mr. Ronnie Robinson, and Mrs. Julie Thomas. Thirteen completely different performers and groups took over the stage this year with their dance moves, instrument playing, and wonderful lip syncing. Caleb Oleson was the technical coordinator with help from freshmen Jared Scott and Devin Reynolds and sophomore Joshua Kimbril. Keeping the tradition, Mr. Lacy was once again the host of the lip sync competition.

Juniors Kyle Goffinet, Luke Thomas, Travis Brinksneider, Elliott Brown, and Donovan Ingle line up after the performance. They came in first place this year singing "Pop Song" by The Lonely Island.

From Boats to Board Games

The Spring Fling was held this year on Friday, May 16, after the Academic Pep Rally. Like every year, it was put on by the TCHS Student Council, and keeping with tradition it held the cardboard boat races. Taking first place for a second year in a row was the cardboard boat "Pile of Ship". The team consisted of Shannon Bryant, Mary Grace Alvey, Allison Conder, and A.J. Corso. There were the usual exciting activities at Spring Fling: swimming in the pool, card games and board games in the cafeteria, basketball in the auxiliary gym, a whiffle ball game in Bryan Taylor Arena, and the film The Amazing-Spiderman playing the auditorium.

We are the Marksmen

The 2014 Commencement Ceremony was held on Friday, May 23 at 7:00 p.m. This year's valedictorian was Brennan Malone and this year's salutatorian was Reese Miller. A total of 107 students graduated this year.

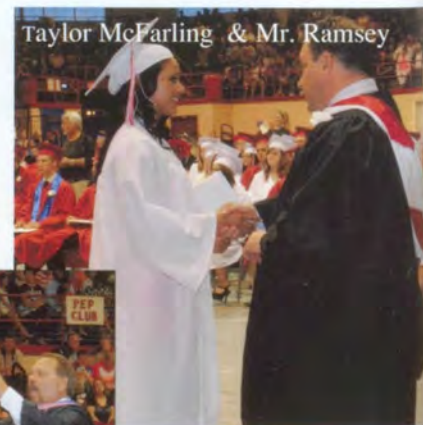

The ceremony began with an opening speech given by class president, Layla Craig. Next, vice-president Kyle Boyer-Hanks delivered a prayer. After that Reese Miller gave his salutatorian speech. Mr. Randy Roccia and his chorus performed "Each of Us Has a Light." Then Malone gave his valedictorian speech. Next class historian and treasurer Cat Diaz and Alex Morrow presented the turning of the tassels. Last, the class secretary Logan Flannagan gave her closing.

Valedictorian Brennan Malone "takes a selfie" before giving his speech. Brennan got this idea from the song "#Selfie" by the Chainsmokers.

the making of:

progression

Progression was the theme for the 2013-2014 yearbook. The yearbook staff, which consisted of 15 members first semester and 12 second semester, worked together to come up with a theme that would show the changes in people, school, and community over the years. The yearbook class had four veterans that returned for a third and final year. Most of our moments were captured with a Nikon D40 and a Nikon D3000. This year's book could not have been possible if it weren't for our printer Herff Jones as well as our representative Angela St. Clair. The class would also like to give a special thanks to Danny Bolin, John Hayes, Dawn May, Larry Goffinet, the Renaissance class, and many students that submitted photos. Last, the yearbook staff would like to thank the yearbook advisers, Brandy Aubrey and Shelly Goodrich, as well as Kyle Boyer-Hanks, the editor, and also Samantha Burton for doing the cut outs.

"I have become addicted to 2048 and always will be because I cannot win!"

Jessie Wheatley

"I had fun doing cut-outs every day because I could take limbs off of people's bodies."

Samantha Burton

"The reason I'm almost bald is because I rip my hair out every day in yearbook."

Kyle Boyer-Hanks

"I absolutely LOVE chick flicks and boy bands!"

Dylan Ingle

"One day, I'll be rich and famous...one day."

Katlyn Kellems

"When I get angry I speak with a British accent."

Sarah Ball

"When I wear flannels I secretly wear superhero shirts underneath."

Gage Otto

Fun Facts

"I am as obsessed with the movie Titanic as Mrs. Aubrey is Star Wars!"

Madison Gilliland

"I love Wiz Khalifa!"

Julie Lindauer

"I like to wrap myself up in a blanket and pretend I'm a burrito."

Tre Bland

"I can touch my nose with my tongue."

Taylor Gillean

coming to a close

As the school year comes to a close, Tell City has maintained its pride in tradition through excellence in community, academics, and athletics. And although classmates leave and people change, everyone who has attended Tell City Jr.-Sr. High School has an inseparable bond that always ties them together. But as we live our own lives and face our own struggles, we as Marksmen will always face

PROGRESSION.

My Little Mouse,
I remember this day like it was yesterday; how did time fly to where we are today? May all good wishes be yours today, but please don't go too far away.
Congratulations!

Retirement

Mrs. Thomas has been teaching at Tell City High School for 27 years. She has taught Biology I, Biology II, Anatomy, and Physiology. When asked what she will remember about Tell City, she said “The Pep Club! I absolutely love promoting school spirit and creating wild, crazy themes to make it fun for everyone. Go TC!!!”

Mr. Johnson has been teaching at Tell City High School for 20 years. He has taught Intro to Communications, Intro to Manufacturing, Intro to Construction, Intro to Transportation, Principles of Engineering, and Civil Engineering and Architecture. He said, “I have always enjoyed the interaction with my students.”

A Note from the Editor

Throughout all three years of being editor of the yearbook, I have experienced many ups and many downs. From earth-shattering deadlines to endless parties, I have made many memories that will stick with me forever. I would like to thank Mrs. Aubrey for all of the crazy, tear-filled, boy-band-obsessed memories she has given me and everyone else on the yearbook staff. I hope you enjoyed the 2014 yearbook:
